This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

CREDIT ON DUTIES,

When the amount on a single importation exceeds $50.

On Salt from any part of the world, 9 months from the time the vessel in which the importation is made, enters at the Custom-house.

On Wines, from any part of the world, 12 months, from the time the vessel in which the importation is made, enters at the Custom-house.

On Brandy, Rum Gin, and other Spirits, if you enter them at once for home consumption, you get the same credit as you do on goods generally, according to the place you import from.

If you enter them originally for the benefit of drawback the credit of the duties is not allowed to exceed either the original credit, or 12 months from the date of the entry of the vessel. Say for instance, if on the 15th May, a vessel enters at the custom-house with Brandy from Europe, and you enter it for exportation, and then on the 15th June following, you enter said Brandy for home consumption, the duty will be payable one-third in 8, one-third in 10 months from the 15th June, and one-third in 12 months from May 15.—So if you should enter rum from Pernambuco, for exportation, in a vessel arrived 20th July, 1819, and on the 25th September following, you enter this rum for home consumption, the credit on the duties will be payable one-third in 8 months from the 25th September, and two-thirds on the 20th July, 1820. If you wish to have either wines or spirits entitled to debenture, you must be careful to declare this intention at the custom-house at the time you make your entry, and name it in your entry. The goods then go in the custom-house stores; whence you can afterwards draw them when you please, either for the benefit of drawback, coastwise, or for exportation, or for home consumption.

Teas.—Remember to enter them for storage for the custom-house, even if you wish to enter them at once for home consumption.—This ceremony will save you something handsome in the credit on the duties.

After entering your teas for storage, you can at any moment, enter them for home consumption. If you thus enter from the custom-house stores at any one time, teas the duty of which amounts to $100 or less, you are entitled on the duties to a credit of 4 months

If over one $100 and not exceeding $500 8 months

If over $500 12 months

This credit begins at the time you make the request to take the tea out of the custom-house store; but it cannot extend beyond two years from the time the vessel enters at the custom-house.

If you should forget to enter the tea for storage in the public stores, then the credit will be only as follows, beginning at the time the vessel enters at the custom-house viz.

If from China $\frac{1}{2}$, 6 months—$\frac{1}{4}$, 9 months—and $\frac{1}{4}$, 12 months.

If from from Europe, $\frac{1}{3}$, 8 months—$\frac{1}{3}$, 10 months—and $\frac{1}{3}$, 12 months.

There is no inconvenience attending this entry of the tea for storage. It need not remain there even for a moment, without you choose.

On other goods generally, the credit beginning at the time the vessel makes her entry at the custom-house is as follows:

If from Europe, $\frac{1}{3}$, 8 months—and $\frac{1}{3}$, 10 months—and $\frac{1}{3}$, 12 months.

If from the W. I. or any other place on the eastern shores of America, north of the equator, and its adjacent seas, bays and gulphs, $\frac{1}{2}$, 6 months and $\frac{1}{2}$, 9 months.

If from any other place, $\frac{1}{3}$, 8 months—$\frac{1}{3}$, 10 months, and $\frac{1}{3}$, 18 months.

DIVISION OF THE BONDS GIVEN FOR DUTIES.

The following are instances of the constant practice of our custom-house, viz.

The whole amount of duties from the W. I. being $101 50

½, 6 months	$50 50
½, 9 months	51 00
		$101 50

The whole amount of duties from Europe or the E. I. being $101 50

From Europe.	From the E. I.
⅓, 8 months	8 months	$33 50
⅓, 10 months	10 months	34 00
⅓, 12 months	18 months	34 00
			$101 50

The whole amount of duties from Europe or the E. I. $103 50

From Europe.	From the E. I.
⅓, 8 months	8 months	$34 50
⅓, 10 months	10 months	34 00
⅓, 12 months	18 months	35 00
			$103 50

By which it will be preceived that the odd cents, if any there are, go to the first bond, and the odd dollar is put on the last bond.

ALLOWANCES FOR LEAKAGE AND BKEAKAGE.

IMPORTATION IN CASKS.

After guaging ale, beer, porter, brandy, gin, molasses, oil, rum, wine and other liquors, in casks, and taking off the real wants on landing, 2 per cent. more is deducted, before casting the duty.—It is on this same guage, after deducting the wants on landing, and the 2 per cent. that you pay the duty, if you enter afterwards for home consumption, any wines or distilled spirits which you have stored in the cnstom-house stores, for the benefit of drawback.

IMPORTATION IN BOTTLES.

On ale, beer and porter in bottles, 10 per cent. is deducted for breakage, before casting the duty.—On wine and all liquors, other than ale, beer and porter, 5 per cent. is deducted before casting the duty.—If you think it most advantageous, you have a right to claim real breakage on ale, beer, porter, wine, and all other liquors, instead of the 10 or 5 per cent. above-named; and if you thus claim it from the collector, at the time you make your entry at the custom-house, real breakage will be allowed you. This is quite important for Marseilles champaign, and for any other article subject to fermentation.

If at the time of entering the goods at the custom-house, you claim to pay the duties on the real contents of the bottles, you will be allowed so to do.—Unless you make such a claim, you will be charged with duties as follows:—

For ale, beer and porter, 5 bottles to be taken for 1 gallon, and 10 per cent. to be deducted for breakage, or the real breakage.

For wine, 12 bottles to be taken for 2½ gallons, and 5 per cent. to be deducted for breakage, or the real breakage.

On empty bottles imported in hampers, no breakage is allowed, unless you claim it as a damage at the time you make your entry at the custom-house; and if you thus claim it, the appraisers will be instructed to allow you the real breakage.

Empty bottles imported in bulk, are counted, and no duty is charged on broken ones.

EXPORTATION IN CASKS.

The wants are taken anew and deducted from the guage; then 2 per cent. is deducted.

After which, if it is ale, beer, molasses, olive oil, porter or wine, they cast the duty and retain 2½ per cent. of it; and thus you have the amount of drawback.

If it is rum, brandy, gin, or any other distilled spirits, they cast the duty and then deduct 3 per cent. of the amount of the duty, and 2 cents per gallon besides, and thus you have the amount of drawback.

WHO CAN ENTER GOODS.

No one is allowed to enter goods or secure the duties on them, as principal in the bonds, unless he is the owner or consignee, at the time the importation is made, that is, at the time the vessel enters the port to which she is bound: or unless he is the agent or factor of the owner or consignee, and lodge with the collector, a power of attorney from the owner or consignee, authorizing him to enter the goods, and to execute the bonds for the duties.

It is very important to attend to this, as no one will be allowed to enter goods as agent or factor, unless he produces a power of attorney as above-named.

The following forms of Powers of Attorney are approved of by the collector of this district.

PERSONS RESIDING OUT OF THE UNITED STATES, and interested in any shipment made to the U. S. must have their invoices authenticatad, before a Consul or Vice-Consul of the U. S.; and in case there is none in the country in which they reside, the invoices must be authenticated before some magistrate of that country.

It has been decided that, on a purchase being made in the interior of a country, the purchaser (if he is owner or part owner and does not reside in the United States) is bound to get his invoice authenticated by an American Consul or Vice-Consul, even although there were none nearer to his place of purchase than the sea board. The law on this subject is peremptory. It permits an authentication, before a magistrate of the country in which the purchase is made only when there is no American consul, or vice-consul in any part of that country. To remedy the inconvenience of the law, as far as practicable, American consuls abroad have appointed vice-consuls in every place of any note, for purchases. Should there be any exceptions to this rule, they will, doubtless, on its being suggested to them, remedy the difficulties of such exceptions, by additional appointments of such Vice-Consuls.

Persons who make purchases abroad must have their invoices authenticated as above named, even although they have partners residing in the United States interested in these purchases.—The word "country" has been decided by the treasury to be synonymous with nation, kingdom, empire or state.

AMERICAN VESSELS FROM ABROAD,

to become entitled to be placed on the most favorable footing must have the captain and all the mates Americans, and also two thirds of all other persons making apart of their crew Americans. In this latter item are included the seamen, the cook, the apprentices, the boys, and all other persons (not including the Captain and Mates) doing duty on board. They must also have an American register. There are now scarcely any American vessels trading with foreign countries, without an American register.

AMERICAN VESSELS ENGAGED IN THE COASTING TRADE, to become entitled to be placed on the most favorable footing, must have an American captain and American mates. Also three-quarters of all persons doing duty on board, including the captain, the mates, the seamen, the boys, the cook, and the apprentices, must be Americans.

ON VESSELS COASTWISE.

No foreign vessels are allowed to transport goods coastwise; but a foreign vessel, with goods consigned to different ports, may proceed from port to port, with a certified manifest, until the whole cargo is discharged.

AN AMERICAN VESSEL,

arriving in the United-States, from a foreign port, may proceed to another foreign port, without discharging any more of her cargo than she chooses; if, when she enters, she reports herself "For one or more ports in the United States, (designating what ports) and for the foreign port or country, to which she is destined."—In that case she will be required to give bonds, for the landing abroad, of the goods she retains on board; and those bonds will be cancelled in the same way as other bonds for goods exported for the benefit of drawback.

AN ACT

SECT. 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United-States of America, in Congress assembled, That if the master or other person on board of any ship or vessel, owned in the whole or in part by a citizen or citizens of the United States, or the territories thereof, or by a subject or subjects, citizen or citizens, of any foreign country, shall after the first day of January, 1820, take on board of such ship or vessel, at any foreign port or place, or shall bring or convey into the United States, or the territories thereof, from any foreign port or place; or shall carry, convey or transport, from the United States, or the territories thereof, to any foreign port or place, a greater number of passengers, than two for every five tons of such ship or vessel, according to custom-house measurement, every such master, or other person so offending, and the owner or owners of such ship or vessel, shall severally forfeit and pay to the United States, sum of one hundred and fifty dollars, for each and every passenger so taken on board of such ship or vessel over and above the aforesaid number of two to every five tons of such ship or vessel; to be recovered by suit, in any circuit or district court of the United States, where the said vessel may arrive, or where the owner or owners aforesaid may reside: Provided nevertheless, That nothing in this act shall be taken to apply to the complement of men usually and ordinarily employed in navigating such ship or vessel.

or passenger for their use, or that of the crew of such ship or vessel; and in like proportion for a shorter or longer voyage; and if the passengers on board of such ship or vessel in which the proportion of provisions herein directed shall not have been provided, shall at any time be put on short allowance, in water, flesh vinegar or bread, during any voyage aforesaid the master and owner of such ship or vessel shall severally pay to each and every passenger who shall have been put on short allowance as aforesaid the sum of three dollars for each and every day they may have been on such short allowance; to be recovered in the same manner as seamen's wages are, or may be recovered.

SECT. 4. And be it further enacted, That the captain or master of any ship or vessel arriving in the United States, or any of the territories thereof, from any foreign place whatever, at the same time that he delivers a manifest of the cargo, and, if there be no cargo, then at the time of making report or entry of the ship or vessel, pursuant to the existing laws of the United States, shall also deliver and report to the collector of the district in which such ship or vessel shall arrive, a list or manifest of all the passengers taken on board of the said ship or vessel at any foreign port or place; in which list or manifest it shall be the duty of the said master to designate, particularly, the age, sex, and occupation, of the said passengers, respectively, the countries to which they severally belong, and that of which it is their intention to become inhabitants; and shall further set forth whether any and what number, have died on the voyage; which report and manifest shall be sworn to by the said master, in the same manner as is directed by the existing laws of the United States, in relation to the manifest of the cargo, and that the refusal or neglect of the master aforesaid, to
